

WHITE SOX HELD NOT GUILTY BUT ALL ARE EXILED

Wild Cheering Greets Jury
As It Returns Verdict
Freeing Players.

LANDIS STANDS FIRM

"No Framing Player Can
Stay in Professional Ball" Decree

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—The former White Sox players and two alleged gamblers brought to trial in the baseball scandal case today stood legally cleared of any connection with the alleged conspiracy for the White Sox to throw the 1919 world's series to Cincinnati, a jury last night having found them not guilty on a ballot.

The verdict, freeing Weaver, Felsch, Gandil, Jackson, Williams, Risberg and Cicotte, the former players, and Carl Zerk of St. Louis, and David Ziser of Des Moines, was returned shortly after midnight amid scenes of wild cheering, whistling and yelling from 500 spectators, which would have seemed more natural in the bleachers of some baseball park than in the dignified courtroom of Judge Hugo Friend.

LANDIS SAYS BASEBALL
EXILES ALL "FRAMERS"

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—None of the American League players acquitted of alleged conspiracy to throw the 1919 world series have any immediate prospect of being restored to organized baseball, according to a statement issued today by Judge Kenesaw Landis, national baseball commissioner.

"Regardless of the verdict of the jury," said the statement, "no player that throws a baseball game, no player that entertains proposals or promises to throw a game, no player that sits in conference with a bunch of players and gamblers where ways and means of throwing games are discussed and does not promptly tell the club about it will ever play professional baseball."

"Of course, I do not know whether any of the men have applied for reinstatement, but if they do they will at least know a few of the rules that will be in force."

"Just keep it in mind that regardless of verdict of jury, baseball is entirely competent to protect itself against crooks, both inside and outside of the game."

COMISKEY, SOX OWNER,
WONT TAKE THEM BACK

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, declared today that the verdict freeing his former players of conspiracy to throw the 1919 world's series did not change his stand and that until they "cleared themselves" to his satisfaction he would have nothing to do with them.

HICKEY IS PLEASED AT RULING OF LANDIS

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Thomas Hickey, president of the American Association, expressed himself as being much pleased over Judge Landis' ruling that "Black Sox" freed by a Cook county jury last night would never be allowed in professional baseball again.

"They Got a Lesson."
CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Failure to secure the conviction in the trial of seven former White Sox players was a disappointment to President Ban Johnson of the American League but he declared in a statement today that a "very good lesson had been taught."

GLEASON DOESN'T WISH INVOLVED PLAYERS WELL

BOSTON, Aug. 3.—"Kid" Gleason, manager of the Chicago White Sox, said today that none of the players involved in the world's series conspiracy would ever play with any club of which he was manager.

"Wish them well," Gleason exclaimed. "Not much. I don't think they'll ever play in organized baseball again."

ALLEGED NOTE FORGER
INDIGNANT AT CHARGE

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Aug. 2.—J. W. Worthington, arrested in Chicago last night on an indictment charging possession of altered or forged government notes, denied the charge here this morning.

"Fate away, boy, fate away," exclaimed he when a reporter asked him about the charge.

Worthington and his guard, a deputy marshal, met a train for Chicago this morning because after leaving the jail Worthington discovered that he had left his false teeth in the cell.

BOY IS PLAYING INTO NOTORIETY POLICE DECLARE

(By the Associated Press)
MUSKOGEE, Aug. 3.—That Malcolm Etheridge, 18 year old Muskogee boy, who disappeared Tuesday afternoon and who was the object of an all night search, was not kidnapped as was first believed, was the statement this morning of Chief of Police Maloney. Chief Maloney called the kidnapping a "frame up" and a "fake."

Six hundred armed men in motor cars raced throughout the city and county last night and early today in a vain attempt to find Etheridge or his alleged abductors.

Police this morning said they had traced the boy to Tulsa, near here. He was seen and recognized there at four o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Chief Maloney said today that he considered the case "the biggest frame-up ever put over in this part of the country." The chief insisted that the boy was stage-struck and was playing for notoriety to get an engagement in the movies.

$10 AUTOMOBILE TAX IS PLANNED

Mellon's Recommendation
Includes Also Revenue on Checks.

WASHINGTON, August 3.—A flat tax of $10 on every automobile and an increase in letter postage from 2c to 3c are two of the new levies favored by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

Mellon also made these recommendations: The tax on automobiles, according to the Treasury recommendations, would apply to every car in the same fashion, regardless of its cost or horse power. Mellon argued that it was justified because the Federal government is spending the $100,000,000 a year on good roads, for which he thought the automobiles should pay. He figured that the 10,000,000 autos in the country would produce that amount.

Committee members, among them Representative Fordney, the chairman, objected to the proposed method of levying the tax. Cheaper cars, of small power, they held, should not be obliged to pay an amount equal to large cars and heavy trucks.

It was suggested that the proceeds from increased letter postage, expected to reach about $75,000,000 annually, be turned into the Treasury as general revenue. Postal revenues have been shrinking rapidly in recent months, and the suggested increase has found favor in influential quarters. It is expected a deficit for the last fiscal year of about $40,000,000 will be reported from the operation of the postal system.

Commissioners Meet.

County Commissioners met Monday and Tuesday in regular session. They allowed salary claims and also allowed road claims to the extent of the amount of cash on hand, received from automobile taxes and a one-fourth mill levy from the state.

BRISTOW BOY USING AN ARTIFICIAL NOSE

BRISTOW, Aug. 3.—(Special)—A year in the hospital — a new nose.

This is the experience of Joe Arnold, a Bristow boy. A new nose has been in process of making for Joe for the last year. Only last Saturday it was announced that he is breathing through two rubber tube nostrils inserted in the home-made nose. He told attendants that he can breathe freely. A shotgun tore away his face.

Joe's face was mended by surgeons at the New University hospital, Oklahoma City. He got a new lip, a patched face, and another nose.

ARKANSAS FLOOD THREATENS LIFE

But Casualties Averted by Prompt Work of Small Boats.

(By the Associated Press)
CANYON CITY, Colo., Aug. 3.—Prompt action of rescuing parties in boats prevented loss of life here last night when a 14 foot wall of water swept down the Arkansas river out of Royal Gorge. Several residences were destroyed, manufacturing plants damaged, and the city water system put out of commission.

The flood was caused by a cloud-burst above here in Royal Gorge. The Denver and Rio Grande railroad tracks were washed out above Canyon City and in places below the city.

SPURGIN IS BELIEVED TO BE HIDING IN MEXICO

(By the Associated Press)
EL PASO, Aug. 3.—Immigration officers along the border today believe Warren C. Spurgin, missing Chicago banker, is somewhere in Mexico, probably with friends that are known to have been associated with him who used to make El Paso their headquarters. It was learned today that prior to leaving Chicago he communicated with two former residents of the city who are now in the interior of Mexico.

CANYON CITY, Aug. 3.—The flood waters of the Arkansas river, which swept down upon South Canyon, a suburb, and the lower part of the city had disappeared today, leaving nearly a score of families homeless, and causing damage unofficially estimated at over $200,000.

Million and Half of Human Beings Gather Daily in Small Area

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Investigating committees recently found that the number of workers who daily flock into the financial district of lower Manhattan exceed 1,500,000. If they were assembled in an open field of equal area there would hardly be room for any of the sleepy clerks to stretch their arms and yawn.

There is less than one square mile in the tip of the island below Chambers Street, or only a little more than three square feet of ground for each person working in the district. But skyscrapers have so multiplied the accommodation nature furnished the first settlers that instead of having less elbow room than an imprisoned criminal, everybody can chew gum without distracting the sensitive ears of the occupant of the adjacent desk.

Although 1,500,000 persons work each day in this small space, the number who live in the area total less than 18,000. Subways, elevated trains, ferries, automobiles and street cars push the others in and out every morning and evening. Some of the commuters live 100 miles away.

MANY COUNTIES LONG DELINQUENT IN FUND

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 3.—Action by the state board of affairs to collect more than $250,000 owed by the counties of the state to the three insane hospitals of Oklahoma has been started according to George F. Clark, chairman of the board, who announced yesterday that the aid of the attorney general will be requested.

Counties are requested to pay $16.67 for each patient in the institution. The money collected in this way goes into the revolving fund of the hospital in which the patient is cared for. The neglect of county commissioners is the only reason for the enormous delinquency which became evident when the board of affairs made investigations as the result of complaints from the three institutions, according to Clark.

A meeting of the board of affairs was held last week at Central State Hospital for the Insane, at Norman, to consider whether that institution should refuse in the future to accept patients from counties which have been delinquent for six months or a year. No drastic action was taken.

The hospitals alone keep tab on their revolving funds, checked of course by the state examiner and inspector. The state board of affairs has asked heads of the three institutions for definite figures on delinquencies with the view of reaching an official total.

The state board has not been informed as to what county owes the most, although all, it is stated, are in arrears. The majority of the counties are delinquent a year, though some have paid up to six months ago.

RUSSIANS BURN HOUSES BEFORE MAKING FLIGHT

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Aug. 3.—Many people in Russia are setting fire to their villages before deserting them; other parts of Russia, according to Helsingfors dispatch to the Central News agency, quoting persistent reports saying that thousands are moving from the interior of Russia. Many villages are said to be in flames.

From the same source came the report that great preparations are being made to deal with the mastering of the peasants now moving toward Moscow. Many trenches are being dug about the city, and much war material, including field guns has been installed, the report said.

FITZHUGH HILLS WILL PASS SOON AS TRAFFIC BAR

Fitzhugh Hills, long a nuisance to county traffic, within a week will be no longer "the old stumbling block of the Lawrence road."

This was the information brought back to Ada this morning by M. B. Stall and H. B. Roach, officials of the Good Roads Motor club, after an early morning visit to the Lawrence camp where more than 25 teams and men are busy finishing the fill. Traffic will be going around the hills over one of the best made stretches of highway in this part of the state in a few days, they said.

About $750 was spent by the club last month alone and almost as much more will be devoted to making a good road around the Fitzhugh hills, Mr. Stall announced. This is in addition to considerable work given by the county in the form of trucks and prisoner labor. A road gang from the county jail started work near Lawrence yesterday.

After a good rain which fell at Lawrence last night, a grader was sent back to the scene of action today and two county trucks were sent out. The road camp near Lawrence now has taken on the appearance of a big road crew with men working almost constantly to put the road in form. It is said. A local tourist when passing through Sherman, Texas, recently on his return to Ada was told by garage men there that the Cotton Belt highway was "one of the best marked roads in the south."

ENGLAND AND RUSSIA WERE NEAR TO BLOWS

(By the Associated Press)
WILLIAMSTON, W. Va., Aug. 3.—Relations, which began with avowed enmity, continuing so for many years and finally resulting in an alliance which had England and Russia fighting side by side in the world war were described today by Baron Korss, former governor general of Finland, in a lecture before the institute of politics at Williams College.

Baron Korss reviewed Anglo-Russian relations and pointed out that on more than one occasion the two nations were close to conflict.

"The statesmanlike vision" of Edward VII of Great Britain was declared to have been an impelling factor in bringing about ultimate friendship, Baron Korss said.

Cherokee Tribe May File $15,150,000 in Claim on Government

(By the Associated Press)
MUSKOGEE, Aug. 2.—An outline of the claims aggregating $15,150,000 which the Cherokee Indian tribe will file against the government if the Cherokee jurisdiction bill now before the secretary of interior for the tribe to bring suit against the government is passed, was announced today by F. J. Boudinot, national attorney for the tribe, who is here to secure the approval of the claims before the Cherokee executive committee, which meets at a local hotel August 15.

SHIPPERS MEET TO FORM PLANS FOR TOMORROW

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 3.—Approximately 40 shippers, representing various industries, met informally today with the state corporation commission to decide on the stand to be taken tomorrow at a hearing here before Commissioner Ernest I. Lewis of the interstate commerce commission, at which the question of freight rates reduction is to be settled.

The interstate commerce commission has been asked by the railroads to reinstate the increase of 35 per cent on intra-state shipping granted last fall by the corporation commission and rescinded in April of this year.

TAPS IS BLOWN OVER THE GRAVE OF FALLEN HERO

Full Military Funeral Is Given Charles Coting-ham Today.

CROWDS ARE IMMENSE

Hundreds Line Streets to See Procession for Returned Dead.

"Lead out the pageant; sad and slow,
As fits an universal woe
Let the long, long procession go
And let the sorrowing crowds about it grow,
And let the mournful martial
music blow—
No more in soldier fashion will he greet
With lifted hand the gazer on the street."

All Ada joined in the honoring of one of her heroes at the funeral services of Charles Cotingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cotingham of this city, here this morning. The funeral was strictly military, ceremonies being carried out by the local post of the American Legion, and was one of the most impressive and largest attended services ever held in the city.

An enormous crowd gathered at the home, 826 East Seventh street, where the funeral sermon was preached by Rev. C. C. Morris, American Legion chaplain, and proper rites for the dead were given. In his sermon Rev. Morris touched on various incidents in the boy's life dealing with the sacrifice he made.

Soldier Hearse Used
At the home the body was placed on the wagon, drawn by four horses and draped in khaki cloth. The casket was covered with a flag and on this the many floral offerings were laid. Four sailors rode with the body while pall bearers marched on either side. The procession was led by the Ada band, followed by the color bearers, firing squad and escort. Directly following the body was a squad of sailors followed by the chaplain and legion post commander.

Then came a long line of soldiers marching in a column of squads, going before relatives and friends. The procession left the home on East Seventh street, came south on Center avenue to Main street, and west on Main street through the heart of the business district to Johnston avenue. The line of march led directly to Rosedale cemetery.

Ceremony at the grave was of a military nature. While the body was carried from the wagon to the grave the escort, firing squad and attending soldiers stood at attention. A few words by Walter Wray, post commander, and prayer by Rev. C. C. Morris followed the placing of the body over the grave.

A last tribute was paid to the young man who gave his life for his home and his country with the firing of the salute by the squad and blowing of taps by the bugler, answered by two responding echoes. The body was then lowered into the grave.

2500 at Funeral
More than 2500 people attended the services. This was the first military funeral ever held by the local American Legion post. Practically every business house in the city closed for two hours this morning and the whole city paused to utter a word of prayer for the fallen hero. It was with bowed heads that hundreds witnessed for the first time a military funeral procession pass through the city and it was one of the largest crowds ever gathered to do a last honor to the dead.

Private Cotingham's record was of the best. He served in the 26th Division, 101st Infantry and was in action with this company when killed. He met his death in the Second Battle of the Marne at Chateau Thierry on July 24, 1918. On that day he was 19 years and 5 months old.

Many kind words and notes of sympathy have been extended to the grief stricken family by friends here. "We thought of him as being absent until his body arrived in the city Tuesday afternoon. It was hard to realize that he had been dead so long," his brother said today. Young Cotingham was hardly of age when he enlisted in the service and he had been away from home only a few months at the time of his death.

All members of his immediate family were present at the funeral. The body was carried to the home at 9 o'clock this morning. Besides his parents, he leaves two brothers, Virgil and M. H., and two sisters, Misses Anna and Ethel.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Enloe and Miss Nell Lambert will leave tomorrow for Jay, Okla., to visit Miss Lambert's parents. While there they will join a camping party for an outing of several days.

FORMER SHERIFF SHOT IN STREET AT TISHOMINGO

(By the Associated Press)
TISHOMINGO, Aug. 3.—J. M. Williams, 55, former sheriff of Johnson county, was shot and killed on the streets here today. J. W. Phillips, local produce dealer, is held by the authorities. It is said that Phillips shot at Williams four times, three taking effect.

According to bystanders no words were spoken between the men. They met in front of a drug store. No reason for the shooting has been discovered by the authorities.

FOUR MADE BONDS ON BOOZE CHARGES

Men Arrested in Connection
With Raid on Still Face
Two Courts.

The arrest yesterday afternoon of Ed Fussell, of near Ada, on a charge of manufacturing intoxicating liquor, making the sixth arrest in a series which started last week with the raiding of a still said to have been operating on Fussell's farm, probably completes preliminary developments in the case, it was intimated at the court house here this morning.

The fifth arrest in connection with the alleged manufacturing plant came Monday when members of the sheriff's force brought in H. H. Foster and filed charges of manufacturing against him in the county court.

Both Fussell and H. H. Foster made bond in the county court on the liquor charge and later were taken before U. S. Commissioner Woods at Coalgate and there made bond for $1000 each awaiting the next sitting of the grand jury at Ada. Investigation in the case was led by Chief Enforcement Officer T. E. Brents and Bob Duncan, county sheriff.

W. L. Hudson, father of H. H. Hudson, made $500 bond in each of two charges, manufacturing and possession, in the county court and then completed double bail in the U. S. Commissioner's court. J. C. Foster, who was also taken in the first raid, made total bond of $1,500 on three charges in the county court and was bonded on the triple charge before the commissioner. Two other men arrested in the raid have not made bond.

SENATORS WAR OVER HARDING'S ATTITUDE

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Assertions, by Senator Hitchcock, democrat of Nebraska, that President Harding had "ordered the slaughter of the Norris agricultural export credit bill" started a political clash in the senate today.

Republicans criticized the demagogue during the Wilson administration for yielding to presidential "dictation" and now are following the same course, Senator Hitchcock said. He referred to the president's opposition to the Norris bill as well as to the Norris bill and said the difference between the "interference" of President Wilson and Harding was that Mr. Wilson took "affirmative" action for legislation carrying out party pledges, while Mr. Harding followed a course of "negative" dictation.

'BALD HEADS' TO FACE
BOBBED HAIR ISSUE

GREENWICH, Conn., Aug. 3.—The question of indorsing the new "bobbed hair" fad among girls, which has aroused such a wide-spread controversy, will be discussed pro and con at the next meeting of the Bald Head Club of America.

Editor John Robemeyer, founder of the club, has threatened to bring some bobbed-hair society girls from Greenwich at the next session and dare the anti-bobbers to vote against their style. The question may be raised as a potential foundation for a woman's auxiliary of the Bald Head Club.

RESERVE BOARD "STUCK" BANKS IS INDICTMENT

Cotton District Forced to Pay 87 Percent, Commission is Told.

RECORDS ARE CITED

Member Banks Required by Board to Stake High Collateral.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Charges that the federal reserve board made certain cotton banks pay 31 per cent interest and at times even demanded as high as 87 per cent were made today by John Skelton Williams, former comptroller of currency, resuming testimony before the congressional agriculture commission.

When confronted with a demand for proofs of his accusations Mr. Williams agreed to furnish data in the case of a southwestern bank, where he said, a law case against a reserve bank was being matured by the member bank officials.

In a claim with Representative Mills, republican of New York, Mr. Williams said he also "stood by" his charges that the reserve banks had required member banks to put up 200 or 300 per cent of collateral in farm paper before lending. "Do you know that?" Mr. Mills demanded. "Give an instance."

"Go to the reserve board," Mr. Williams retorted, "they have the records."

SEARCH IS MADE FOR THE ALLEGED TAX LEAK

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Crops generally made good progress over the state during the week ending yesterday, except in the west, central and southwestern counties where rain is needed badly, according to the weekly crop and weather report issued here today by the United States weather bureau. With the exception of the parts of the state named soil moisture conditions are fairly good, it is said.

"It was ideal weather for threshing wheat and oats and excellent progress was made," states the report. "Early corn is practically made and is in good to excellent condition. Later planted corn made fair progress except in the southwestern portion where so firing is reported."

"It was an excellent week for cotton," the summary continues. "Hot and dry weather and sunshine hindered the boll weevils except in the bottom lands where the plant growth is rank. The crop generally made good to excellent progress and while late the condition is satisfactory in territory not affected by the boll weevil."

EMIGRANT NEW BRITISH CARE IN ALL PORTS

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Aug. 3.—England has its hands full in dealing with European emigrants bound for the United States who formerly went in German ships.

Congestion in the ports of the United Kingdom and the recent outbreak of typhus in Russia and the Balkans have caused the United States Public Health Service to be strict itself. At the present time three American surgeons are at work here, the first public health officials in the United Kingdom.

Dr. W. J. Pettus, formerly Assistant Surgeon General of the United States, is in general charge of the work with offices in the Consulate. Dr. Burr Ferguson will have direction of operations at the port of London and Southampton and Dr. N. B. Robinson at Liverpool.

Duties which the new organization will perform include the supervision of inspection and handling of all emigrants for America and fumigation of ships for rats and vermin. This work was formerly carried on through the ordinary consular channels but now it has grown to such proportions as to make additional help necessary.

All second-class and third-class passengers bound for the United States must submit to medical inspection before a sailing permit is issued. The emigrants are divided into two classes, viz., the clean and the unclean, the latter being subjected to thorough cleansing and their clothing disinfected. Persons coming from certain countries or districts regarded as "suspects" are detained 12 days.

This period of detention is passed in big hostels provided by the steamship companies where the emigrants are maintained at the companies' expense in London and Liverpool.

Mrs. Sam A. McKee and daughter Grace, and son, John, left overland for Sallisaw today where they will spend several days visiting relatives. They went by way of McAlester.

A GREAT LOSS

In the death of Enrico Caruso, the world loses one of its greatest artists. Caruso has probably sung to more than any other human being. He has thrilled audiences in both America and Europe, and wherever he has gone he has demonstrated his wonderful interpretation and range of voice.

America, while idolizing great singers from abroad, has never put as much emphasis on producing her own as it should do. One can almost count on his fingers the American singers who have attained more than a local reputation. The reason has been given as mercenary. Americans measure everything in dollars, we are told, and that until we measure results in some other way than in dollars we cannot expect to produce great artists. In other words, the dollar being the goal and measure of success, the American, talented though he may be, will not take the time to bring out the best in his voice.

We believe the time is near at hand when singers will have more encouragement. When one has established a reputation now, he can get plenty of money, but the hard work and poverty through which most have to go before obtaining fame is too great for the average person to undertake.

Enrico Caruso is dead. Who will take his place as the world's greatest tenor? We hope it will be an American.

THE BUDGET PLAN

The eyes of the nation are on the Dawes Budget Commission which is trying to straighten out government finances and put an end to the haphazard manner of spending the people's money. It is universally realized that relief must come from somewhere and this is the only promise of relief now in sight. It has always been a game of grab in the matter of appropriations with the result that the government got only a fractional part of the value of a dollar for every hundred cents expended.

If Dawes and his co-workers are strong enough to hold the raiders at bay while giving the people an honest administration of its finances it will mean a turning point in governmental history and they will merit the very best the country can do for them. Congress has come to think so much in billions that the blowing in of a few hundred millions, more or less, meant little and even the country no longer paid the attention to it that it would prior to the war.

CARELESSNESS

It is estimated that 5,000 men, women and children have been killed by automobiles in the United States since January 1. Responsibility between the carelessness of automobile drivers and the carelessness of pedestrians.

At the same time cities all over the country report that despite the intense heat that has prevailed the infant mortality rate is on the downgrade, because the germ diseases that formerly killed babies have been all but conquered.

The lives that we save through sanitation we lose through carelessness in driving and walking. We have conquered the hidden menaces to our health but we seem unable to conquer our own follies.—Exchange.

A MEAN THRUST

If the republican state committee is $7,000 short, why not have the oil operators who wanted a change put up the deficit? They have about that much left.—Durant Democrat.

A very unkind thrust, to say the least of it. The writer was residing in Tulsa at the time of the November election at which time oil was selling at $3.50 per barrel. The operators were nearly all keen for a change and voted the Republican ticket. They got it all right all right. Oil is now $1.00 per barrel and the unappreciative party leaders refuse to put on a tariff at the demand of distressed producers who wanted a change. Now comes the Durant Democrat with its unkind cut.

And now comes the Enid Events with a story of how a bold bootlegger drove into that city from El Reno and sold his goods at $12.50 per gallon, making a special price of $50 to one thirsty soul who took a ten-gallon keg. Such news should draw a large crowd to Enid and keep the hotels filled while they wait for the philanthropic dispenser of wet goods to make a return trip. And then comes another news story from somewhere in the state saying that the association of bootleggers has notified the moonshiners that they will handle only booze made in copper lined stills. That will be hard on the wood alcohol industry.

The shipping board is said to have offered to sell a wooden steamer to the city of Wichita, Kansas, at almost any old price. We suggest that they send a representative to Dallas, which city has been talking about navigating Trinity river since the year one.

ARE WE GETTING ANYWHERE?

Stories of Great Scouts

By Elmo Scott Watson

© Western Newspaper Union.

SOUTH SEA ISLANDER WHO WAS CROOK'S FAVORITE SCOUT

"I would rather lose a third of my army than to have Frank Guard killed," once declared Gen. Frank Crook, and when this great Indian fighter set such a high value on the services of a scout it meant that Frank Guard was without a peer. Guard was born in Tahiti in 1850, the son of an American trader and a native woman. His father returned to this country when Frank was but two years old and at the age of fifteen Frank ran away from home and went to Montana.

Guard became a mail carrier, a dangerous job in a country full of hostile Sioux. They captured him finally and were preparing to kill him when a young brave pleaded for his life. Calling their attention to Frank's swarthy complexion he declared that the mail carrier must be an Indian who had been captured by the whites.

This Indian was the renowned Sitting Bull. For 19 months Guard was guarded closely and, realizing the uselessness of attempting to escape, he learned the Sioux tongue and entered into the Indian life as one of them. He lived with the Indians six years before he finally escaped.

One day Guard was scouting for an officer who attempted to guide his command by use of the compass. They became lost in a blinding snow storm. Frank borrowed the officer's compass, smashed it against a rock, and then, taking the lead, he guided the soldiers straight to the place they wished to go.

Guard's greatest exploit was his part in the "Sibley Scout" in 1876. Lieut. S. W. Sibley was sent out on a scout to find the Indians. He found them, and in a short time his little command was surrounded by hundreds of Sioux and Cheyennes. After a desperate fight in which the Cheyenne chief, White Antelope, was killed, the soldiers were forced to abandon their horses and attempt escape on foot.

Guard's knowledge of the country was all that saved them. He led them over unknown mountain trails, winding through the deep canyons and around high peaks, until the Indians were outdistanced. The next day he guided them to a high point on a mountain side and pointed down. Below them lay Crook's camp.

Frank Guard was given a life-time position as a government scout and he performed valuable services in the last uprising of the Sioux, the Ghost Dance war of 1890-91. In 1894 Frank saw his father for the first time since he had run away from home. Guard died in St. Joseph Mo., in 1918.

"Fat and Lean" Game Proposed to Assist H. S. Athletic Fund

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce met in regular session last night for the purpose of discussing several matters of interest. One question discussed was the prospects of a fat and lean baseball game, each team being composed of business men of the city. It is proposed that proceeds from the game be used in helping pay the High school athletic association out of debt. More definite announcements will be made soon.

The matter of improving the road from Franks to Pontotoc, Okla. was discussed but no definite action was taken because required figures were unfinished. Commissioner Brents of this district will furnish the Chamber of Commerce with facts concerning the improvement of the road. It is believed that with the opening of this road more trade will be brought to the city.

W. B. Jones and family left today for Sulphur Springs and other points in Texas where they will spend several days vacationing and visiting. They will make the trip overland.

Stories of Great Scouts

By Elmo Scott Watson

©. Western Newspaper Union.

NED BUNTLINE, SCOUT WHO WAS WRITER OF PLAYS

Some of the old scouts turned their hands to queer trades when the Indian fighting days were over. Buffalo Bill was the owner of a Wild West show, Edgar S. Paxson became a painter, and Capt. Jack Crawford was a poet. It was left for Ned Buntline to add another to the list of unusual things for a scout to do. He became the writer of dime novels and the producer of melodramas equally exciting.

Judson was his real name, and Edward Zane Carroll Judson was the full title with which his parents burdened him on the day of his birth in Philadelphia in 1822. He became one of the boys who ran away to sea and when he was only thirteen he rescued the crew of a boat that had been run down by a ferry steamer in New York harbor. Soon afterwards he became a midshipman in the United States navy.

Then the West called him and Judson answered the call. During the Civil war he was chief of scouts among the Indians on the western frontier, and after that he wandered all over the great plains as hunter and trader. He made the acquaintance of Buffalo Bill, Wild Bill and Texas Jack, and began writing his thrilling tales, part fact and part fiction, about their lives. Ned Buntline was the pen name he used in his writing, and as Ned Buntline he became famous.

Buntline believed that eastern audiences would be interested in plays based on life in the Far West and in 1872 he persuaded Buffalo Bill and Texas Jack to come East and take part in one of his melodramas. They arrived in Chicago one Wednesday and found that Buntline was planning to open the show the next Monday. He had rented the largest theater in the city, but none of the other actors had been engaged to appear with the two scouts. In fact, the play had not yet been written!

With characteristic energy Buntline set to work and in four hours he had written a play called "The Scouts of the Plains."

Buntline's dime novels were equally popular, and, in spite of the disapproval of their parents, the boys of the eighties and the nineties eagerly read the hair-raising adventures of "Red Ralph, the Ranger" and "Dead-Eye Dick." Buntline never won renown as a scout himself, but he helped spread the fame of others, until in 1886 he followed the trail of many of the "redskins" who "bit the dust" when one of his, here's "trustee" rang out.

SAT PROPPED UP IN HIS BED ALL NIGHT

"When it comes to building a man up and making him feel fine I don't believe there has ever been a medicine made the equal of Tanlac," said D. K. Boyd, 114 East Frank St., Norman, Okla.

"I had an awful time with nervous indigestion and sleeplessness for three years and got so run down and out of sorts I couldn't eat, sleep or work the way I wanted to. I used to have attacks of indigestion day and night, and I had such smothering spells I was afraid to lie down and used to sit propped up in bed all night long. When I did get to sleep it would be nothing but a few cat naps which didn't do me any good.

"Tanlac has just made a new man out of me. I eat anything I want, sleep like a log all night long and get up in the morning as fresh and full of life as a two-year-old. I have gained ten pounds and feel better than I have in three years. I'm a believer in Tanlac and recommend it every chance I get."

Tanlac is sold in Ada by M. A. Waits and by leading druggists everywhere.

TEMPERATURE FAR DOWN AT OKLAHOMA CITY TODAY

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 2.—Temperature here today at noon was 72 degrees, the lowest in many days. Heavy rains in the Rocky Mountain region and a high pressure area there were held responsible by United States weather officials here. They persisted that a further drop of two degrees will be reached before evening.

Miss Ruth Hampton of Sulphur was in the city yesterday shopping and visiting.

PAVING WORK ON STOCKTON AVENUE COMPLETED SOON

Only a few more days of work will be required to complete the paving job on South Stockton avenue. Much of the concrete has already been put down and a large crew of men is busy pushing the work to completion. The Yates and Gallamore Construction company has charge of the work and are confident that it will be finished this week.

The concrete will be laid seven inches thick and will leave a fifteen foot space on each side for walks. Storm sewers and curbs were put down several days ago and the fine grading was completed in time for the concrete work to start last Monday. As soon as the street paving job is completed the same company has a contract to pave the alley joining this block with Townsend Avenue, on which they will start work.

Commercial Printing with class is the kind you get at the Ada News Print Shop. Prices are as low as excellent work will justify.

BOLSHEVIKI ROB PRODICAL CLEAN

Russian Would Return to America But Has no Passport.

WARSAW, Aug. 2.—Ralph Rimar, formerly an art student in Detroit and Charleston, W. Va., who left the United States via Canada early in January this year with 700 other Russians, to take up life under Bolshevik rule, is now in this city. All the other members of the party, he says, "have had enough of Bolshevism and wish they were back in the United States."

Mr. Rimar was in Soviet Russia three months, visiting Petrograd, Moscow, Kiev and other towns. Conditions generally, he said, were gradually becoming worse everywhere. The Bolsheviks confiscated all his documents, including $300, he said, as well as copies of application for American citizenship, when he crossed the Estonian frontier on his way into Soviet Russia. He is eager to return to the United States but without credentials, is unable to obtain a passport.

He says he never believed Bolshevism was a success in Russia but made the trip "to satisfy his curiosity and for fun" but that he didn't have any pleasure at all, and his curiosity is thoroughly satisfied. Mr. Rimar said he was arrested five times, went without a square meal for 12 weeks and that if he is ever able to get back to the United States he will stay there "for all time."

Emma Goldman Unknown.
The prodigal says he made inquiries about Emma Goldman during his tour of Russia but no one with whom he talked knew her whereabouts. From other sources it was learned the departed American anarchist leader is living in Petrograd at a hotel conducted by the Soviets.

Mr. Rimar went to the United States eight years ago from a part of Russia which is now included within the Polish republic and where his parents reside.

Many other Russians who left the United States in the past year for their native country have become dissatisfied and begun to drift back across the frontiers of states bordering Russia on the west. Some of these are planning to return to America—if they can arrange it.

Bolshevik soldiers guard the Soviet boundaries and only certain persons are given permission to leave the country, these including Polish prisoners who are being exchanged. Nevertheless, by bribery and other means, great numbers of persons are crossing into adjacent countries each night. Polish government officials have estimated that about 50,000 have been entering Poland from Russia every month, despite efforts of the Polish authorities to keep them out. Only a very small percentage of these people carry the proper Bolshevik credentials.

RAY WINS NEW LAURELS AS BAREFOOT COUNTRY BOY

Time turned back the pages of life yesterday on the screen of the American Theater when "The Old Swimmin' Hole" with Charles Ray starring as Ezra was presented to an appreciative audience.

The Ray vogue has become such an institution that if the popular young star appeared in "Hamlet" his admirers would doubtless declare that he was unsurpassed, but Ray knows he is happiest in juvenile roles and his good judgment has again been shown in "The Old Swimmin' Hole."

Legion Detail Sails Today for France to Visit Scene of Fight.

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—With the flag of the national commander of the American Legion flying at her masthead and more than 250 members of that organization on board, the American passenger steamer George Washington sailed today for Cherbourg and Bremen.

The legionnaires will disembark at the first port, when they will go to the battlefields on which for more than a year, they fought against the forces of the German empire.

The party is headed by National Commander Emery and includes men from every state. Cable advices from Cherbourg said the veterans would be officially received there by representatives of the French government.

President at Last Finds Retreat Far From Office Worry

(By the Associated Press)
LANCASTER, N. H., Aug. 3.—President Harding found today the seclusion and easement from duty for which he expressed a desire so often since becoming executive. As a guest of Secretary Weeks at his country home on the summit of Mount Prospect, the president and Mrs. Harding with a party of friends began with day of rest a vacation at least until the end of the week to last.

A closed private road is the only approach to the retreat and a telephone four miles away at the foot of the mountain is the nearest connection with the outside world. It is expected that their only trips will be to nearby golf courses.

Harding in No Rush to Restore Toll to Home Trading Ships

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—President Harding has informed senate republican leaders, according to information today, of his opposition to early action on Senator Borah's bill to restore the free toll privilege to American coastwise vessels using the Panama canal. Mr. Harding said that he thought it advisable to take a position that would avoid possible disputes with Great Britain, and other nations. The free toll question should be deferred until after the approaching disarmament congress, he said.

PLAN MAY STABILIZE FARM PRODUCTS SALE

(By the Associated Press)
PIERRE, S. D., Aug. 3.—A plan, which its exponents claim would stabilize the prices of farm products has recently been presented to the Senate agricultural committee at Washington. It has likewise passed the lower house of South Dakota legislature and been endorsed by financial and farming associations.

According to Will H. Lyon, of Sioux Falls, S. D., the plan author, it will not only stabilize the price of farm products but will go farther and stabilize business in general, to a great extent.

In explaining the plan Mr. Lyons says: "The stabilization plan would have the national government guarantee to the farmers the average cost of producing staple, non-perishable crops, plus a reasonable profit, by agreeing to purchase whatever surplus remains on hand at the end of the crop year, delivered at a central terminal and at a stipulated minimum price."

"This surplus in every staple crop except wheat and cotton, is so small that the amount of money required would be insignificant in comparison with the value of the entire crop."

"If the surplus of any crop should prove excessive, the stabilization commission, fairly representing both producers and consumers, appointed by the president, would probably reduce the price for the following year and increase the price of other products in which a shortage might exist and thereby induce our farmers to increase production of flax-wool, and sugar which we now so largely import, at a cost of several hundred million dollars a year."

"The government under the plan must necessarily control the imports of such products as through the stabilizing commission would purchase abroad, at the world price level, any deficit required and sell to our manufacturers at not less than the guaranteed price (except that intended for export) thereby making a profit of the difference between the cost and selling price. Speculation in food products so abhorrent to the general public would, of course, be automatically eliminated below the guaranteed price."

And He Meant It, Too.

On Jimmie's return home from the birthday party of a girl in the neighborhood, he was telling his mother about her mother. When the children were leaving she asked them all to wish her little girl something nice.

Whereupon Jimmie's mother said to him: "I trust that my little boy wished the little girl something nice."

"O, yes," said Jimmie, still seeing visions of cake and ice cream: "I wished her that she'd soon have another birthday."

Here comes the summer girl as depicted by Joseph in a white mallow braid mushroom with apple blossom trimming.

$1785

July, 1921

It was a five-passenger touring then. It was a new car and a good one. It sold for $1785. Many of the Chandlers built that year are still in active service.

The big, handsome, powerful seven-passenger Chandler of today, developed and refined as these years have passed, would have sold for twice as much then. It sells for $1785 now.

The Chandler policy then was high quality at low price, and that is the policy now, always has been and always will be.

Other cars of many kinds and many motors have come and gone in those eight years, while the Chandler lives and multiplies its friendships.
